

Catholic University Quiet Wins---G. U. Beaten by New York Five

TWO POINTS WIN FOR C. U. QUINT

George Washington Five Is Beaten in Good Game by 25 to 23.

ALMON AND TRACY STAR

Rival Forwards in the Linelight. Jack Hurley Stars on the Defense.

By C. W. SWAN.

Playing whirling basketball, the Catholic University and George Washington quints battled forty minutes last night in the National Guard gymnasium, and when the final whistle blew, the Brooklanders were leading, 25 to 23.

The game was hard fought throughout, although the Brooklanders were never behind. At the end of the first half, the score stood 15 to 10, but when the festivities started again, the Buff and Blue five made a desperate stab at the long end of the score.

Tracy's sensational work was again the C. U. feature, as this had was the mainstay of the Brookland quint. The work of Keegan and Donnelly was also of a high order, the latter covering Noonan well.

Almon played another swell game for the Buff and Blue, scoring seventeen of the twenty-three points made by the George Washington five. Almon caged nine goals from foul out of ten attempts.

Hurley a Star. By far the best defensive work of the evening was done by Jack Hurley, George Washington's plucky guard. Hurley kept Tracy on the jump throughout the contest, the speedy Brooklanders scoring but three goals from the floor. Patterson also played a good defensive game for Coach Schlosser's aggregation.

When the Catholic University five rounds into good condition it will be a hard outfit for any club in this section to stop. Coach Hurley's team was last night, and with a little more work, will be ready for any five in the East. Tomorrow night the Buff and Blue quint tackles Gallaudet at the Army. Line-up and summary:

ATHLETICS' SPRING GAMES.
Mackmen Are to Play Four National League Clubs.

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 15.—Four National League teams will play games with the Athletics before the starting of the American League season next year. If present plans are completed, two of these teams, the Chicago Cubs, and the St. Louis Cardinals, will play with the world's champions on diamonds in Florida, and the Phillies and Brooklyn in the North.

Arrangements are now under way for the Athletics to play the Chicago Nationals six games in Florida, three at Jacksonville, where the world's champions will train, and three at Tampa, where the Cubs will again go to get into condition.

The St. Louis Nationals will train at St. Augustine, which is a journey of only one hour and ten minutes from Jacksonville. The chances are that the Athletics will also play a week with the Cardinals, giving them from ten to twelve inter-league contests before they start for the North.

As the American League's championship season will start until next week later than last season, said Manager Mack today, "I think the players will get all the work they need by starting in about March 1. I plan to take the pitchers and some of the other players South about that time. The regular infielders and outfielders can go South about a week later and they should not need a great amount of work."

Big Offer for Carpenter.

London, Dec. 15.—A Central News dispatch says that Mr. Gulliver, manager of the Palladium Music Hall, in London, has offered George Carpenter, the middle-weight champion of France, who recently defeated Bombardier Wells, a salary of $2,500 a week to appear at the music hall. Carpenter's manager has been compelled to decline the offer as Carpenter has already arranged to appear at the Folies Bergeres, in Paris.

COLLEGE STARS MAY PLAY.

Harry Costello's Club to Have Other Gridiron Wonders.

It was learned last night that Harry Costello, Georgetown's wonderful football player, who is managing an all-star collegiate aggregation against the Vigilantes next Sunday, has signed several other crack college football players, not members of the Georgetown team last fall. Several M. A. C. stars are said to be members of this outfit, which will attempt to trim the Vigilantes.

This game has aroused a great deal of interest among followers of independent football in the District, and it promises to be an exciting contest, as Costello will drop kick whenever the collegians are within the 20-yard line. Costello hopes to boot over enough goals to trim the champions.

MICHIGAN ELEVEN WILL MEET HARVARD IN 1914

Western Football Team Agrees to Play in Cambridge Stadium on October 31.

Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 15.—Fred W. Moore, Harvard's graduate manager of athletics, tonight stated that in all probability Harvard will play the University of Michigan in the local stadium on October 31. Tentative arrangements to this effect have practically been completed.

Mr. Moore says both managements having agreed to such a meeting, Harvard ordinarily sought to entertain the Yost coached eleven here on October 21. These plans, however, did not quite agree with Michigan's booking arrangements and the Ann Arbor management wired today that October 21 would be the only date possible for them to come East.

Manager Moore added that the West-erners did not request that Harvard return the compliment by going to Michigan in 1915. The two elevens have met twice before, in 1911 and 1912.

New York, Dec. 15.—Out of those volcanic confines of Cincinnati today developed an eruption that may shake or agitate Herrmann, president of the Redlegs and chairman of the national commission, was threatened by the board of directors of his club with the most signal disgrace to which an active big league executive has ever been called upon to submit. This board did not see a thing that was publicly the subject of the conditions of Joe Tinker's sale by Herrmann to the Brooklyn baseball club.

Herrmann had given his word of honor as a gentleman and his binding signature as proper representative of the Cincinnati baseball club to carry through to a successful issue the negotiations with Charles H. Ebbets for the release of the departed manager of the Redlegs to the Brooklyn baseball club.

The painful position in which the president of the Cincinnati club is placed is that of a man who has been called upon to submit to the national commission, while it does not lay within the power of the club directors to cancel any deal Mr. Herrmann has made with Ebbets, but he has not been able to place him in a very unfavorable light to Cincinnati fans.

SPORT NEWS AND VIEWS

By WILLIAM FREY.

The best bit of football news in years is released today, viz., the booking of a game next fall between Harvard and the University of Michigan, representative Eastern and Western teams.

Harvard, with Brickett, Mahan, and other stars, and the prospects of putting on the field even a better eleven than the one which defeated Yale and Princeton this fall will go against a worthy foe, a team which, according to experts, has the open style of play down to a science.

The Harvard-Michigan game next year is going to be one of the most interesting and hardest fought staged on any gridiron, besides giving the experts a real opportunity to compare East and West in the matter of football.

It looks as if the Engineers had a right to protest the decision of the referee in their game against the Vigilantes last Sunday, and to all concerned it would seem that the easiest way out of the controversy would be to play the game over again.

Referee Dugan claims to have blown his whistle when the forward progress of the ball was stopped. The Engineers say he did not. This is the bone of contention.

If the matter is left to Walter Camp or a committee of football experts the referee probably will be upheld.

Referee Dugan, when asked to explain in detail the play, had the following to say last night:

"Knowing local followers of independent football are awaiting a statement from me, and as I have held off until every one concerned has had a say, I now wish to correct a few of the misleading statements, and only hope that the sporting public will take this as final."

Football Eleven Breaks Off Athletic Relations with Vigilantes—Manager Oliveri Blamed.

As an aftermath to the Vigilantes-Engineers football game played last Sunday, which was forfeited to the Vigilantes, 1 to 0, Manager Story, of the Engineers, writes as follows:

"December 15, 1913.

"Sporting Editor,

"The Washington Herald.

"Dear Sir: Manager Oliveri, of the Vigilantes, is not a man of his word, and did not stick to his written agreement. His agreement read: 'We, the undersigned, representatives of the Vigilant and Engineers football teams, agree to the following:

"First—That the Vigilantes and the Engineers play a game of football at Fifth and H streets northeast, December 14, 1913. Game to be called at 3 p. m."

"Second—Engineers are to receive 30 per cent of gross gate receipts.

"Third—Time of quarters, fifteen and twelve minutes.

"Fourth—Settlement to be made at headquarters of the Engineers, Monday, following game.

"Fifth—Referee, John A. Dugan; umpire, Lieut. Dorst; head lines, Farmer.

"Sixth—Each team is not to have a player on its list who has not participated in a game for his respective team this season.

"Seventh—Each team to have a representative on the gate to collect tickets and a representative in the office, but the Engineers' representative is not to handle tickets or cash, but only to look after the interests of the Engineers.

"He has broken the following:

"No. 1—He would not allow us a man in his ticket office.

"No. 2—He would not come to Engineers' headquarters Monday and settle.

"He also stated that he would phone Monday after the result of the meeting. This he did not do, but he was not tied up to his agreement, the Engineers voted at a meeting this evening to call off all foul athletic relations with the Vigilantes, and no Engineer player will be allowed to participate in any game against the Vigilantes with any independent team."

SHAMROCK HAS CENTERBOARD.

This Is Lipton's Surprise, According to Well-Informed Yachtsmen.

It is believed by well-informed yachtsmen that the "surprise" Sir Thomas Lipton referred to recently in speaking of his new America Cup challenger, Shamrock IV, was that the yacht would be fitted with a centerboard.

This should be very interesting reading to the Harbortroop, who decided upon that design for the defender—they contracted to build.

It is understood that an agreement has been reached whereby each prospective defender of the trophy shall not exceed seventy-five feet on the water line, in order that the challenger, which will have that measurement, shall not be at any disadvantage that might arise from that quarter.

Play Game Tonight.

The game advertised for last night at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, between the Y. M. C. A. Reserves and the National Guard team will be played tonight at the National Guard armory. The game will be called promptly at 8:30 o'clock.

G. U. LOSES TO NEW YORK FIVE

Manhattan Collegians Defeat Hilltoppers in Hard-fought Game, by 31 to 25.

TYLER FEATURES GAME

Visitors Come from Behind and Land Battle in Last Quarter—Passing Is Sensational.

New York University basketball five put the Georgetown quint on their backs the count last night in the best game of the season. The contest, which was witnessed in the gymnasium for many moons, by the score of 31 to 25. Short passes, superb teamwork, and sensational goal shooting constituted the link for the Blue and Gray lads. Coming into the second half with the score against them, the Gotham lads displayed some of the best basketball work that any one could ask for, and it was impossible to stop them. A beautiful shot from near the center of the floor by Tyler gave the boys from the big city the lead for the first time, and from then on it was all their way. Notwithstanding the fact that the Hilltoppers lost they must be given credit for the game fight they put up.

At the start of the game before the ball had been in play one minute, Wetzel sent it through the meshes from the center of the floor, giving the Georgetown lads an advantage of two points. It was Georgetown's half by a margin of four points, the score being 12 to 13. This half was slow, and the play indifferent, although the teams played nip and tuck, not being separated by over four points throughout the half.

In the second half came the downfall of the Blue and Gray team. Starting off with an entirely new style of play the Gotham lads showed such a bewildering attack that the Hilltoppers were unable to stop them. Cummings and Tyler caged the ball with quick rapidity, and took such a commanding lead that they were never in real danger of being overtaken. Had Walters been able to ease the ball from the foul line a different story might have been told, as fouls were numerous in this half. Line-up and summary:
